1. OP-1 (Osrodek Pracy No. 1) is a forced labor camp, whose dimensions are about 600 by 800 meters. The camp is enclosed by barbed wire. It is located in Warsaw-Sluzewiec, directly south of the practice racetrack and directly west of the racetrack and grandstands.
2. The camp is under the administration of the Ministry of Public Security (MBP).
3. OP-1 contains approximately 1,500 forced laborers, mostly Poles serving sentences of up to five years. OP-1 absorbed 700 forced laborers when OP-2 was consolidated with it in late 1952. OP-2 was formerly located in an area along the Vistula river, on the northern side of the city.
4. OP-1 provides the manpower for PMBP, the construction division of the MBP. PMBP is responsible for the construction of all MBP facilities in the Warsaw area (over 50 different installations).
5. OP-3 is located near the Jewish cemetery in the "Gaenze Viertel" of Warsaw. There are between 3,000 and 4,000 forced laborers being held there. These are prisoners who have received sentences over five years. The forced laborers in OP-3 are primarily employed in the manufacture of cement.
6. OP-1 serves also as a staging area for German prisoners of war. In November 1952, there were approximately 80 Germans being held there. there were only 10 Germans being held there.
